
From: Mark Rosencrantz <rosencrantz@carneylaw.com>
Sent: Friday, August 31, 2018 6:38:15 PM
To: Niemer, James
Subject: FW: Motion response Vix Tech v. Wallace

Jim:

I'd appreciate it if you could try to, as soon as possible, ascertain what Leigh Tennison meant on the last page of Exhibit A to Kevin Wallace's declaration when she wrote: "It refers to a process used when fare enforcement officers manually issued tickets. The process is now done automatically through the hand held devices and therefore 1-7 is no longer included." (Emphasis added.) My research indicates that neither of the two software applications at issue in this case nor any other software product supplied by Vix issues citations, which I believe the meaning ascribed by Wallace to the statement. It appears that what she means is that the applications can add value to Orca cards without the need to print a paper ticket used to ride, but I'd like some confirmation if possible.

Thanks,

Mark

Mark Rosencrantz

CARNEY BADLEY SPELLMAN, P.S.

206-607-4154 Direct | 206-622-8020 Main

Bio | vCard | Address | Website

rose@carneylaw.com

This e-mail contains confidential, privileged information intended only for the addressee. Do not read, copy, or disseminate it unless you are the addressee. If you are not the addressee, please permanently delete it without printing and call me immediately at (206) 622-8020.

From: Katherine A. George <kathy@johnstongorge.com>

Sent: Friday, August 31, 2018 11:30 AM

To: 'Niemer, James' <james.niemer@soundtransit.org>; Mark Rosencrantz <rosencrantz@carneylaw.com>

Subject: Motion response Vix Tech v. Wallace

Please find attached the motion response and related declarations.

Thanks,

Katherine A. George

Johnston George LLP

1126 34th Ave., Suite 307

Seattle, Wash. 98122

kathy@johnstongorge.com

Phone 206 832-1820

Cell phone 425 802-1052

Fax 206 770-6393